ASC puts up $150,000 toward extension of Col. Dyke runway

Will allow Airport Authority to leverage $2.2 million in federal grant funds

By MICHAEL DANIELS

The American Skiing Company of Newry has agreed to contribute $150,000 toward the extension of the runway at Bethel's Col. Dyke Airport.

The ASC contribution, along with a similar grant from the Maine Department of Transportation, would make up the 10 percent local match needed to qualify the Bethel Airport Authority for a $2.2 million grant from the Federal Aviation Administration.

The MDOT and FAA funds have already been guaranteed to the BAA verbally, according to town officials.

The announcement of the ASC contribution was made by company attorney Deirdre O'Callaghan at a selectmen's meeting Monday evening.

But while that announcement appears to solidify the financing for the proposed expansion, at least one question remains: Who (for example, the BAA, FAA, Board of Selectmen, or voters) will have final say as to whether the project takes place?

The question is a key one for many voters, especially those who remain opposed to the expansion of the airport.

At last week's annual Town Meeting, officials appeared uncertain and contradictory when attempting to answer a question from the floor regarding what say, if any,

THE SILT FENCE kept the silt out of the brook, but not the brook out of the silt. Despite contractor Bechtel Corporation's erosion-control efforts, Mother Nature Tuesday got the best of silt fencing placed on either side of White's Brook in Gilead. The brook crosses the path of the 292-mile Portland Natural Gas Transmission Company pipeline now under construction. The project was christened in a ceremony last Friday at the West Bethel pipe yard. The line, expected to be completed in November, will carry natural gas from Canadian gas fields into Colebrook, N.H., through Maine, southern New Hampshire and Vermont and end in Dracut, Mass. The heavy equipment in the background was lined up and ready to go to work on clearing and digging -- as soon as the weather decides to cooperate. A decision was not expected anytime soon. There were numerous instances of flooding in the region, but apparently none were severe. Area rainfall measurements from the time period of the weekend into Tuesday ranged from six to more than eight inches. (Photo by Alison Aloisio)

New plan, new signs win big in Bethel

By MICHAEL DANIELS

It took five years to put together, but less than a half an hour to pass.

By an overwhelming margin, Bethel Town Meeting voters last week approved a new comprehensive plan for the town.

More than 140 voters turned out Wednesday, most in an approving frame of mind.

All the articles on the warrant passed, and when it turned out that one had been written in such a way that its passage contradicted the intent of its sponsors, voters agreed to reconsider, then defeat it.

Only on the reconsidered article, which dealt with airport finances, was the vote close enough to require counting.

The comprehensive plan approved Wednesday replaces a far less extensive 1986 document.

Supporters argued it was necessary if the town were to be able to control its own destiny, at least as far as physical appearance is concerned.

There are two kinds of change, said Ken Bohr, chairman of the committee that drew up the plan: "change imposed on us over which we have no control, and change we initiate."

There was little argument Wednesday about the merits of the new draft, although Rick Whitney, an outspoken critic of such planning, argued: "A town's character is not defined by its physical appearance. Character cannot be destroyed by internally lit signs or golden arches."

And Pat Doonen argued that the vote on the plan should be put off until a special Town Meeting, in order to give people more time to read the 167-page document.

But many in the audience were present because of a well-orchestrated get-out-the-vote campaign by plan supporters, and they were in no mood to put off their voting. Doonen's motion was overwhelmingly defeated.

The plan itself then passed with only a dozen or so hands raised against it.

Voters Wednesday also passed an article amending Bethel's sign ordinance to eliminate Maine Department of Transportation business-directional signs and replace them with a town-managed system of business and informational signs.

House painter finds his talents extend to the small brushes

By ALISON ALOISIO

Late-blooming art talent is becoming contagious in the Bethel area -- just ask 50-year-old Wendell Sweetser of Bryant Pond, who recently caught the painting bug from 60-year-old Eleanor Brooks of Bethel.

Brooks took up folk art painting a couple of years ago. She had no previous art experience. Her painting quickly became popular, and she sold much of her work.

Then, last fall -- inspired by Brooks' example -- Sweetser took up painting on canvas. He had never taken lessons.

The result: he produced 21 paintings in a little over three months, and all of them are currently on display in the hallways of Stephens Memorial Hospital in Norway.

Sweetser is a carpenter and house painter by trade. "I did some work for her (Brooks)," he said. "After looking at her painting, that really inspired me," he said.

He didn't actually try painting until this past November. But once he made up his mind to do it, there was no looking back.

"I usually go whole-hog at anything I do," Sweetser said. He bought a whole range of art supplies, including everything from oil to acrylic to watercolor paints.

With no previous lessons (other than watching a PBS painting show), his first couple of paintings were fairly crude. One was a picture of a horse standing in some water, with mountains in the background, and another was

Fears expressed in Woodstock over school for sexually troubled youth

By ALISON ALOISIO

A petition drive opposing a Woodstock facility for sexually abuse reactive children will be launched shortly, East Milton resident Dennis Billings told Woodstock selectmen Tuesday.

But Woodstock constable Jim Miclon said the residents' concerns should be directed at the Maine Department of Human Services, which he said is responsible for licensing such facilities.

The Woodstock facility, which would reportedly serve children of third-to-eighth-grade ages, would be located off the Billings Hill Road, near Concord Pond. Operation is expected to be underway in August.

The site is the former location of the Woodstock Wilderness Experience, and has dormitory facilities. The new owner of the property is Armand Madore of Western Maine

But selectmen say their hands are tied

Assessment and Counseling Services of Mexico.

Dennis Billings said he and other residents of the area had just learned of the plans for the facility. He described the news as a "bombshell," and said he was concerned for the safety of his children.

In speaking with one of the facility owners, said Billings, he was told the children to be served could be either sexually abused or abusers themselves.

Billings said he was also worried about visits by family members of the children at the facility, in the event they might pose a threat to neighbors.

In April, the selectmen were asked by the company involved in financing the facility to write a letter reading, "Please accept this acknowledgment that we are aware the proposed use of the subject property is as a residential care facility for sexually abuse reactive children." They wrote the letter, dated April 30.

The selectmen told Billings they had no authority in the matter. "We have no control over who lives where," said Elton Cole. Added Leon Poland, "We could say no, and they could still do it."

Constable Jim Miclon, who was present at the meeting, said he had researched the background of the people involved in the plan. He said

AND THE WORK BEGINS--IN 1941. During the summer of 1941 work began on the original, 236-mile Portland-Montreal oil pipeline. The line was constructed to speed the transport of oil to Montreal, at a time when tanker ships were in short supply, the St. Lawrence River was often frozen, and the waters of the North Atlantic were patrolled by German wolfpacks. The Bethel Citizen of July 1941 reported: "The new $8,000,000 pipeline will pump approximately 50,000 barrels of crude oil daily to the refineries of Montreal. Under the Lease-Lend Act, the United States is bound to make deliveries of crude oil to Montreal refineries. The Portland-Montreal pipe line will save 10 or 12 days for the hard-pressed tankers, and relieve the petroleum transportation shortage expected to affect the Atlantic Seaboard." As to the local impact of the construction work itself, The Citizen later that summer reported as follows: "The novelty of this type of work in this vicinity has attracted many onlookers, who have invariably been pleased with the courtesy shown by the visiting workmen and those in charge of the project."

FRIENDS AT, FACTS ON ERIC'S SIDE

To the Editor:

With all the negative reports in the papers and on T.V. about uncaring and indifferent teenagers, I wanted to lend my voice in praise and appreciation to these wonderful teens -- classmates and friends of Eric Mills, who have been at his side every day since his unfortunate accident after graduation. They have been thoughtful, caring, and loving, which helped to bolster his and our spirits during the first heartbreaking hours before and after his operations, waiting in the I.C.U. They came bearing cards, gifts, balloons, flowers and most of all -- love. We will never forget them. Thanks to all.

Perhaps that is why it hurts so much to hear the negative reports from unknowledgeable people, referring to his being drunk, and the accident something he deserved due to that fact.

Eric does not, and never has been a drinker. Does not smoke. Does not do drugs. He is having a hard enough time trying to recuperate without hearing these untruths. Check the police report, also the blood alcohol testing at the C.M.M.C. Hospital: No drugs involved.

From Debi, Ernie, Ron, Lori, Nana, Papa, Jill, Jessica, Brandon, Alex, Gram, Chuck, uncles, aunts, cousins -- we all love you, Eric.

Elizabeth Mills
Bethel

(As was reported in last week's Citizen, neither alcohol, drugs nor excessive speed is regarded by the police as having been factors in Eric Mills' accident. The conclusion of the Bethel Police Department's accident report, signed by Chief Darren Tripp, reads as follows: "The single causation factor of this accident was fatigue on the part of the operator, Eric K. Mills. Information obtained at the scene and during the subsequent investigation revealed no evidence of drugs or alcohol on the part of Mills. Speed was not a factor in the accident." ---MRD)

WEST PARIS FIRE TRAINING

To the Editor:

Several members of the West Paris Fire Department recently completed intensive two-day training modules at the Cumberland County Fire Attack School in Gorham. One of the courses, "Firefighter 1, Module 1," is a sixteen-hour program designed to teach fire behavior basics and standard techniques in firefighting. Combining book work with video and hands-on learning, instructors put firefighter Mike Allen through the different objectives and skill-stations. This is the first of several modules that all firefighters in the state should be trained in.

Two other members, Lieutenant Mike Akers and firefighter Doug Penley, participated in "Firefighter 1, Self-Contained Breather Apparatus" (S.C.B.A.). This is an advanced course which prepares fire personnel to use S.C.B.A.s for firefighting, ventilating and search and rescue operations. A rigorous course physically, it also demands a high level of psychological control as trainees are sent into buildings with their face masks taped over, to simulate live-fire conditions. The participants basically live with the S.C.B.A.s on their backs for the entire class.

All three members successfully completed their courses and received certificates at their respective levels. Their dedication to learning, and their willingness to take a weekend away from other activities, is greatly appreciated.

JOIN THE CANOE RACE

To the Editor:

Much is made these days in Bethel of the need to increase recreational opportunity. Particularly, the Androscoggin River is cited as an under-utilized resource. The recently produced Comprehensive Plan highlights this fact, and recommends action to draw attention to the river and the possibilities it presents.

One way to do that is to take part in one of the canoeing races scheduled for this year. The first one takes place Saturday, June 20, sponsored through the Maine Canoe and Kayak Association, and it will have categories for expert and recreational entrants. We know that paddlers from all over New England will be here, and, if there is enough interest, there will be a "local" category. Races start at 11 a.m. from the Riverside Campground, and great views of the start and finish can be had (with care) from the Route 2 bridge.

All are welcome. For more information, call Bethel Outdoor Adventures at 824-4224. There is a need for a few volunteers to help in registration and other similar tasks. But mostly it would be wonderful to see a strong contingent of locals turn out to have fun on their river.

HONOR-ROLL RECOGNITION

To the Editor:

I attended the recent Awards Ceremony of the Eighth Grade at Telstar. There were many special awards given to a select number from the graduating class of nearly 100.

I would like to know why there was no recognition given to students who maintained an honor roll average all the years of grade school. These students are special, too, and worked hard to "be on the honor roll." Their families and friends are proud of them.

CRYING FOR EAST BETHEL

To the Editor:

As I sit and listen to the rain, I can't help but wonder if this is Mother Nature crying for East Bethel -- for the State of Maine and New Hampshire for that matter.

Soon the equipment will start rolling in and things will never be the same again. Bethel village will stay unharmed while East Bethel was made the sacrificial lamb.

I am happy for our neighbors across the river in Hanover. They restored my faith that if people fight for their rights together there is a chance. Here, we failed. Why? Because most gave up before the fight even started, fundraisers found very little support and only few spoke up. Those of us who did speak were ridiculed at times or not taken seriously.

In time, people will see more and more that we were right. Just look at the new stakes which mark the construction limits along the road -- now let's see how much clearing will be done. Then we were told that the pipeline will not devalue our properties, yet one landowner showed me a document from PNGTS which states that due to the proximity there is an $8,000 reduction in property value. Does that mean that the town will be fair and grant us all a tax reduction?

Now there is a shadow looming over the future of East Bethel. Actually, the whole state is at stake. There will be many more communities in the future who will be faced with eminent domain. Property rights are under siege for the sake of natural gas. Economically and environmentally speaking we are supposed to benefit from this. How can this be with all those proposed power plants? Aren't we just trading a different kind of pollution? Then they mention all the jobs; well I feel Maine workers deserve better permanent jobs with benefits and not just temporary work. Cheaper electric bills -- seeing is believing. This whole project is financed through a Canadian bank. Even the mandatory testing of wells which PNGTS has to have done is being done through a Canadian company.

I have learned a lot during the last year. I can deal with the fact that neither PNGTS nor the state care about East Bethel, but when the town itself turns against their own and does nothing to help the citizens of East Bethel to protect and preserve the rural image, what does that tell us? We are not just lot and/or map numbers on the tax list, we are people with just one major flaw -- living outside of Bethel village.

LET'S GIVE THEIR TALENTS A CHANCE

To the Editor:

I have almost reached full circle in my theater/dance career and feel the need to express my opinion of the advantages of music/dance/theater and art in the schools. This always seems to take last place in the curriculum and yet I can think of nothing that would involve the entire school and build school spirit more than a great musical.

It has always been my dream to involve the entire school, not just the actors (elocution) but an original play (by a group of script writers) -- singing (song writers), orchestra (musicians), set design (artists), set building (shop), costume design (homemaking department -- not to mention the cookies and punch they could prepare for the cast), lighting and special effects (technicians), posters, flyers, programs, etc. (graphic arts), stage hands -- just to mention some of the students this would involve in a show. No one is left out. Now students can say, "I'm important. I have talent too. Give me a school letter sweater -- because I have earned it."

I've attended school plays and musicals with only parents of the performers in the audience. How sad. Think of the talent we might uncover and encourage.

I see shy students in Spring Street Dance Theater blossom into self-assured individuals. Teachers tell me they stand up in class and recite with confidence -- theater does that for kids.

Let's pursue all of the talents of our young people. We may be very pleased at what we discover. Great talents come from little towns just like Bethel. Let's give them a chance.

THANKS, KIDS

To the Editor:

The U.S. Forest Service was very lucky to host the Grade Two and Grade Three classes from Crescent Park School last week during their Community Service Day.

More than 100 students gave their time and energy to help clear hiking trails of the tree limbs and other debris dropped on the trails as a result of January's ice storm.

The third-graders worked on the Albany Notch trail in the Crocker Pond area while the second-graders tackled the nature trail located at the Evans Notch Visitor Center in Bethel.

All the students did a great job of clearing the trails so that they can be enjoyed by local residents and the many visitors as well. To all the students we say: "Thanks for all you accomplished and especially for the enthusiasm and energy you showed."

"I'd like to especially thank all the Crescent Park second-graders who entered our 'Name the Nature Trail' contest. Our trail has never been named, so we asked the students to suggest names and draw pictures for the trail sign. Congratulations to Grace Grover for having her drawing and trail name (The Moose Trail) selected to be the permanent name for the nature trail."

I'd also like to thank the staff at Crescent Park School for supporting the spirit of volunteerism and their willingness to organize and participate in Community Service Day.

In-line skating on the table

BETHEL--The Bethel Board of Selectmen has agreed to consider amending the town traffic ordinance to allow in-line skating in the village area, but they want more information first, and are leaving it to the skaters to educate the public about their sport. Skateboarding, pool skating, roller skating and similar activities are currently banned on streets in the village area, but in-skater Michael Broderick argued at the selectmen's Monday evening meeting that his activity was a legitimate and increasingly popular form of transportation. He said the Bethel ban against all such activities was overly broad and restrictive. The selectmen agreed to look again at the matter, and perhaps to hold a public hearing; but first they want input from Police Chief Darren Tripp and more information from Broderick regarding laws elsewhere dealing with in-line skating. They also suggested the public might be more open to accepting in-line skating in the village if the skaters themselves took the initiative in educating their non-skating fellow citizens about the activity.

Power interruption scheduled

AUGUSTA--About 1,300 customers in the Bethel area will experience interruption of electric service on Sunday, June 21, so crews can perform repairs to a nearby substation. The interruption will last from 1 to 4 a.m. In the event of inclement weather, the repair will be postponed to Sunday, June 28. "The disconnect insulator on the substation was damaged during the thunderstorm we had on May 23," said CMP spokesman Mark Ishkanian. The following roads will be affected: in Albany, Greenwood, Paradise and Zenus Mills roads; in Bethel, Bailey, Bethel Park Apts, Biathlon Ridge, Broad, Chadbourne Mill, Chandler Hill, Chapman, Chestnut, Church, Clark, Crescent, Cross, Eams, East Bethel, Egan Ridge, Elm, Evergreen, Ferry, Flat, Flat Road Development, Forest, Gilead, Grover Hill, Hall, Harding, High, Kilborn, Lovers Lane, Main, Main-West Bethel, Mason, Mechanic, Mill Hill, Morrill, Mountain View, NTL Ext. Beach parking spot to be blocked WOODSTOCK--Road foreman Percy Monk has been asked by selectmen to come up with a barrier to block a parking space near the beach on Lakeside Drive. Several years ago a car parked in that spot rolled onto the beach and pinned a boy. For the past two years, a portable toilet has sat in the spot, preventing parking. But a decision was recently made to discontinue providing the toilet. That decision may be revisited at the request of beach neighbor Tom O'Rourke, who thinks the toilet is needed for sanitation reasons. Selectmen will seek the input of the Recreation Committee at the next selectmen's meeting. Reasons given for discontinuing the toilet are that it encourages more use of the already-crowded beach, and could create liability for the town as a result of placing it in the road.

Town won't pay for unauthorized work

WOODSTOCK--Selectmen Tuesday declined to pay Jim Mason of West Paris $517 that Mason said he is owed for work he did during the January ice storm. Mason put in 17 hours doing cleanup work on the Curtis Hill Road, but he had not been hired by the town. Selectmen said that FEMA, which has reimbursed the town for much of the cleanup, does not authorize reimbursement unless workers were designated to provide services by the town.

Bald eagle trip is Saturday

BETHEL--The Friends of the Androscoggin will lead a canoe trip Saturday to observe the bald eagle nest at the headwaters of the Androscoggin River at Lake Umbagog. The only active bald eagle nest in New Hampshire, it was used until 1949 when it was blown down in a hurricane. No nesting occurred at the site until 1989, when a pair of eagles began rebuilding the nest. Since then, it has produced young nearly every year. Trip participants may be able to observe adult and young eagles as well as osprey, loons and other bird and animal species in the area. Canoeists must furnish their own canoes, life jackets and lunch. The trip will organize at the Route 2 MDOT picnic area near the Sunday River Brewing Company at 10 a.m. To register for the free event call Steve Wight at 824-2410 or 824-0488.

Come watch the old-timers

GREENWOOD--Two co-ed, old-timers softball games between Greenwood and Woodstock will take place Saturday at 10 a.m. at the Greenwood field. Game one will feature 30-to-50-year-olds, while game two will be for 50 and over. Refreshments will be sold, and a flea market will take place from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. The Greenwood Recreation Committee hopes to make the games an annual event. It will benefit upkeep on the town's recreation park. Rain date is Sunday the 21st. For more information call 875-3757.

Rotary golf rescheduled

BETHEL--The Bethel Rotary Club Golf Challenge has been rescheduled due to heavy rain. The new date for the challenge, hosted by the Bethel Inn & Country Club and Northeast Bank, is Monday, June 29. The day begins with registration and a luncheon at 12 noon. A shotgun start will follow at 1 p.m. New additions to the event include a $10,000, 50-foot putt for cash and a new car for anyone aging the 165-yard par 3 #16 hole. Airline tickets, resort getaways and golf clubs are other prizes golfers will have a chance of winning. Team entries are being accepted. For more information call 824-2175.

Fatherhood celebration Sunday

NORWAY--The "Celebrate Fatherhood" series will offer an afternoon of games and entertainment for fathers and their families on Sunday from 12 noon until 4 p.m., at the Guy E. Rowe School in Norway. Among the offerings will be music by Donnie Katlin and Jewel Clark, storytelling by Robin Mellow, juggling by Michael Miclon, and food, games and crafts. All events are free. For more information call Jonathan at 824-3459.

Cameron campaign underway

RUMFORD--The Committee to Reelect Rob Cameron has begun bi-monthly meetings to work on his reelection campaign. Cameron is running for his fourth term as State Representative. Meetings are held at the Cameron home on the South Rumford Road in Rumford. Anyone wishing to help is welcome to attend. The next meeting is 7 p.m. on June 17. For more information call 364-7989.

Rail path voted down

NORWAY--Voters at Monday's annual Town Meeting rejected a proposal to develop a rails to trails pathway from Beal to Alpine streets. The 2,800-foot path would have followed the abandoned Norway Branch Railroad bed. The 51-80 vote means the town will lose $150,000 in state grant funds. Residents living near the proposed trail said thinning brush near the rail bed would diminish their privacy and encourage juveniles to gather near their back yards. A petition opposing the trail drew 101 signatures. Trail supporters argued it would enhance the residential area.

Missing teens safe and sound

CHATHAM, N.H.--Two girls missing in the White Mountain National Forest for two nights were found safe Monday. Anne Laramie, 15, of Coventry, Vt. and Emma Rowe, 14, of Montpelier became separated from a larger group Saturday while heading toward a shelter. On Monday, they hiked seven miles out of the woods with rescuers. They spent two nights huddled together in one sleeping bag after losing the other while crossing a stream.

From the Bethel Police log:

Driver escapes police -- temporarily

At 12:30 a.m. on June 14 police were waiting on Route 5 (with lights and flashers on) for MDOT to arrive regarding a flood problem. The officer observed a truck coming north at a high rate of speed. He clocked it at 60 miles per hour. The vehicle hit the flooded area and hydroplaned. The driver lost control, crossed the center line, and, just before he would have struck the cruiser, cut hard back to the left. He lost control again and spun around, stopping behind the cruiser and facing south. The driver got out, and the officer identified him. The officer asked for his license, registration and insurance. The subject could not produce any of them. The officer asked him if he was under suspension, and he said he was not. The officer asked the subject to turn the truck around and pull up so as not to block traffic, while a license check was run. The driver then got into the truck and fled the scene. The officer pursued him down the Songo Pond Road, but it became too rough and muddy to continue. No further contact was made. (See June 16).

Friday, June 12

At 6:03 p.m. police arrested Walter H. Connell, 20, on two warrants stemming from a June 5 incident -- failure to stop for an officer and criminal speeding (85 miles per hour in a 50 m.p.h. zone). The subject denied knowledge of the incident. He was taken to the Oxford County Jail, where he was processed and held in lieu of bail.

Saturday, June 13

At 10 p.m. police received a report of an ongoing party on Elm Street. An officer indicated he observed several juveniles at a residence consuming alcohol. On arrival, the officer and a deputy located several area juveniles consuming alcohol in an attached garage. A keg of beer was visible. All persons were identified and the alcohol confiscated. Eric R. Rackliffe, 19, of Bethel was issued a summons for furnishing a place for minors to consume alcohol.

Tuesday, June 16

At 6:46 p.m. police arrested John McGurn, 22, of Bethel at his home on charges of operating after suspension, driving to endanger and failure to stop for an officer (see June 14 incident). He was also given a traffic summons for speeding (60 miles per hour in a 45 m.p.h. zone), no proof of insurance and failure to provide registration on demand.

Airport

voters will have over the airport's Master Plan (the document which governs the facility's growth).

Little light was shed on the question at Monday's selectmen's meeting. The board eventually opted to refer the matter to the town attorney for clarification.

Extension could come next year

If getting town approval does not prove to be a stumbling block, the runway extension could take place during the next construction season, according to BAA Chairman Arlan Jodrey.

Plans call for extending the runway, which is currently 3,150 feet long, to 4,000 feet.

The project would not include lighting the runway, but it is expected the FAA would want to move ahead soon on that aspect of developing the facility, Jodrey said.

No additional land would need to be acquired for the expansion of the runway to 4,000 feet, Jodrey said, but some airspace easements would need to be negotiated with abutting property owners.

Representatives of the town and BAA were scheduled to meet yesterday (Wednesday) in Portland with FAA officials for a "scoping session" on the project.

At 4,000 feet long, the Col. Dyke runway would be able to accommodate larger aircraft, including the Falcon jet owned by ASC.

O'Callaghan said Tuesday that ASC was making the $150,000 offer because, "the airport is obviously important to us from a corporate standpoint, and it is important to Sunday River from the perspective of marketing and availability."

Also, she said: "The Airport Authority obviously doesn't have that kind of capital available, and we didn't want to see them miss out on the opportunity (for the $2.2 million in FAA funds)."

There is the possibility that ASC would be able to recoup part of the investment at a later date, she said.

If that were to happen, the repayment would be from federal -- not town -- funds.

they had run a similar facility in Dixfield, and he was told by the Dixfield Police Department that "they never had one incident there."

"I think your fears have taken over," he told Billings.

Miclon said it was his understanding the plan called for a counseling, not a corrective, facility.

"I asked specifically, 'Is this another Elan? The kids who were there were under court order. They didn't want to be there,' he said, referring to former corrective facilities in Waterford and Poland.

Miclon, who is also a captain in the Oxford County Sheriff's Department, said the department regularly got calls regarding youths running away from Elan.

He also said he was told the children in Woodstock would be educated at the site, not in local schools.

Constable Jim Miclon said of a similar facility in Dixfield:
"They never had one incident there."

He advised Billings and any other citizens to direct their concerns to the Department of Human Services.

Madores' response

Kathleen Madores, to whom calls were referred, issued a statement Wednesday regarding the facility, which she referred to as a private alternative school.

She said that children will be referred to the school through DHS, and DHS will license the operation.

"The children are victims of abuse and neglect," said the statement. "Some of the effects of the abuse manifest themselves in the children having difficulty in school, inability to make friends, feelings of depression and anger.

"A full complement of qualified staff are present 24 hours a day to provide for the needs of the children. The private school will offer a year-round program to 12 elementary students from third to eighth grades. Residential services will include education, counseling and recreational activities to help children resolve the effects of abuse and neglect."

The statement did not address several other issues raised in a conversation with The Citizen earlier in the day, including a comparison of the Woodstock school clientele with that of the Dixfield facility; the status of the DHS license application; and Billings' concerns regarding visitation from family members.

PROLIFIC PAINTER--Wendell Sweetser, 50, of Bryant Pond recently took up painting, and now has 21 pictures on display at Stephens Memorial Hospital in Norway. He is shown here with an oil painting titled "Twilight."

So he set out to produce that number. He did it in a little over three months, and his paintings went up in the hallways about two weeks ago. They are mostly scenics, with some flower and animal subjects.

Some people who have seen the Stephens' paintings have expressed interest in buying them. He has sold several others, and would like eventually to turn in his house-painting brushes for art brushes. "I'd like to make a living at it," Sweetser said.

On June 7th Communion was held at the Bethel Alliance Church. It is usually held on the first Sunday of the month. As usual, we had a very nice attendance. The ladies' trio, Andrea Bennett, Nancy Fox and Nancy Hansen, sang a special number accompanied by Judy Webster on piano. Pastor Rick's sermon "Like Father, Like Son" was very nice. As always, there was a lot of singing and this was led by Shane Clark, and Judy Webster played piano. Pastor Rick the guitar and Peggy Mowery the flute. You are always welcome at Bethel Alliance. We are just one big family and it seems to grow every week.

Nancy and Sonny are expecting their grandsons, Brian, Philip and Jason Thorne on the 15th to spend some time with them, and their mother will arrive a little later.

"What is a Church?"

"A Church is: a fellowship against loneliness, a hospital for healing souls, a school instructing those who would learn of God, an encouragement to walkers in the way of Christ, a practice field for patience and compassion, a laboratory of truth and love, a laboratory of life, an internship for minister members, a hospitable door, a herald of good news, joyful news, hopeful news, helpful news, a time-out corner, a resting place, a bath for washing guilt away, a reflecting pool, a kneeling bench, a cafeteria -- God feeds us there, a garden where God comes looking for us, a rescue mission where God finds us there, a place where all are welcome and invited to participate fully in life and work of the church." These definitions of a church came from the Fieldstone Presbyterian Church in Mooresville, N.C., as seen in "The Circuit Rider" -- the Lovell UCC Church newsletter.

"Love knows no limit to its endurance, no end to its trust, no failing of its hope. It can outlast anything. Love still stands when all else has fallen." This is from Corinthians.

Bobby: "Why?"

Susan: "Because the cows cannot get a square meal."

Douglas Dillingham of Norfolk, Va., formerly from this area, graduated from Immigration Officer Basic Training Course 303 at Glyncro, Ga. Several men and women received their credentials as special agents after completing their studies on criminal laws, immigration laws and physical fitness. Douglas received a certificate for marksmanship in addition to maintaining an A average in his classes. He graduated from Oxford Hills in 1979. After completing extensive Spanish, Douglas and his family will move to New England where he will work as a criminal investigator in Hartford, Conn.

Those attending the ceremony for Dillingham were his mother, Hazel Dillingham; his wife, Cindy; children, Melissa and Richard; Elwin and Nancy Millett of Vermont; and a friend of the family, Phyllis Lowe.

Dana Dillingham, another former local boy, is in the service in Korea where he will be stationed until September.

A South Woodstock boy, Neal Thurlow, hit a game-winning, two-run single in one of Telstar's playoff games. Thurlow also got three hits and four RBIs. Jeremy Curley also had an RBI for Telstar. Good work.

Kellie Record and Sadie paid us a visit one evening this week. She had been up visiting Sheila Verrill and stopped on her way home.

While at Ripley and Fletcher having my car inspected, I had a short visit with Margaret Scitlog.

I missed a special birthday this month, it was Phil Lynch. Hope he had a happy one.

Many attended the graduation at Oxford Hills Comprehensive High School Saturday night. Doug Wing and Jenny Record were among those graduating this year.

Phelps Poland has now retired from his work at Ledgeview Nursing Home, where he worked in maintenance for many years. We wish him a long and happy retirement.

Larry Billings, curator, Woodstock Historical Society, reports that he has given a Maine souvenir, a Coca Cola tin, a Whitman's tin, a jewelry box, a lunch box, some rare estate jewelry and a seafood cookbook to the museum. Paul Billings has given an American History magazine, also. Curator Billings takes a great interest in the quality of the museum. Helvi Cary and Annelia Burnham watched the museum recently.

Bryant Pond

Alice Hoyt
Judith Grover
Tent 17 Daughters of Union
Veterans met on Monday, June 8, at the Grange

Hall, with six members present. Sally Sawyer filled in as guide. General orders number one was read, also a letter from Eleanor Pugglesie. Alice Wardwell was reported in the Bridgton hospital but, gaining. Twenty-three calls were reported. We talked about the convention coming up on June 25 and 26. There was a report on the sale and Memorial Day. The next meeting is July 13.

Mrs. James (Donna) Jenni of Pittsburgh, Pa., was a guest of Evelyn T. Bean this past week. The movie, "The Horse Whisperer," was filmed by Paul Ryan of California, nephew of Michael G. Capper. It was filmed in Montana and Paul was in the state three months doing the picture. Both he and his wife work for Robert Redford -- leading man of the movie.

While reading the "Woodstock Weekly," the W.E.S. school paper, I see that lots of parents and friends volunteered their time at school. I liked the way the principal put it: "Parents working closely with their children's teachers produces success in school for the children." Have a nice summer vacation.

Bryant Pond Hour on Channel IV TV is Wednesday at 3 p.m., Thursday at 7 p.m. and Saturday at 9 p.m.

Sympathy is extended to the family of Juanita Allen. Also sympathy to Howard MacKillop's family in the death of his sister, Thelma.

Thursday evening Ken, Alice and James Hoyt attended an open house at Edgcomb Edie School with Joseph and Maggie Hoyt. On Saturday James Hoyt and Lauretta Sanborn attended a reenactment at Fort Edgcomb. Joseph was helping in this.

Friday was "Seniors Appreciation Day" at the Oxford Legion Hall by TRIAD. This was free to seniors over 50; including free hamburgers, hot dogs, salads, chips, ice cream and cookies. Also there were drawings for gift certificates and tote bags. Eleven of the Woodstock-Greenwood senior citizens group attended. Thanks to Linda Hooker and the sheriff's department. There were around 93 people in attendance.

The Historical Society features many fine antiques. Be sure to visit the museum and enjoy them. Curator Larry Billings has given the society a Maine souvenir and a seafood cookbook. The museum is open each Saturday from 1 to 4 p.m.

Andover

Tina Farrington
Andover
Elementary School held its annual class night and Sixth-Grade graduation on Monday evening, June 15. Accepting their graduation pins from John Emery, teacher, along with their parents were: Ben Bailey, Chris Parker, Nigel Kreiton, Robert Merrill, Peter Poor, Eric Zitoli, Steven Chenery, Ashley Stambolis, Lindsey Farrington, Erin Farrington, Emily Clifford.

Appreciation gifts were presented to teachers Carol Stuart, Vicki Meisner, and Roger Sabin, who are relocating to other schools in the district next year. And a retirement gift was presented to Beverly Swan for her years of service in the AES kitchen. Many thanks are extended to these dedicated folks. You will be missed.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Swain have returned home from Lexington, Ky., where they attended the high school graduation of their granddaughter, Courtney Amelia, daughter of Robert Jr. and Kay Swain.

Fred and Glenna Allen celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary recently. The East Andover Community Club presented them with a cake.

The Ellis River Riders will hold an All Youth Horse Show on Sunday, June 21, at the show grounds.

Dorothy Arsenault, Mexico, entertained 13 members of the East Andover Community Club on June 8. Jane Reed assisted. Karen Thurston received the club's award at the Alumni Banquet. More plans were made for the 60th anniversary party on Sept. 14 in South Paris. The present 16 members, plus six who were members at least 10 years, are expected to attend. Several are charter members, joining in 1938. There will be no meeting in July. On Aug. 10, members will gather for their annual picnic at Riverside Camp Site on Route 2.

Three American flags have been donated by Violet Swain and placed in front of the war memorials on the Common.

The Calvary Congregational Church Sunday School Department ended its year with a very successful German Supper, with over 75 people in attendance. After the meal was served, everyone enjoyed a puppet show and skit. Marge Stinson, superintendent, thanks all who helped make this a fun time. Sunday School will resume with Rally Day the Sunday following Labor Day.

We have not been blessed with much sunshine above the Notch this week. It has been like living in Noah's Ark. The ground is so wet the plants are rotting at soil level. You can hear the grass growing if you really concentrate.

The School Committee met on June 11. It was voted unanimously to have the public re-submit bids for transportation of the children. The original bids no longer pertain to the present bus run. We now have less children and a shorter run. On advice from council, this was the best way to approach the problem.

The Planning Board met on June 13. Members present were Joe Bernier, James Kenney, Ray Bernier, Larry Nelson and Roger Lavallee. The sub-division ordinance was discussed after a legal opinion was presented to the board. Two permits for reconstruction were granted.

In spite of the foul weather, some hardy souls visited in town. Tara and Don Murray of Cape Cod visited Sue and Larry Nelson. Lonnie Latourneau arrived from Florida mid-week to his chalet. Becky Kendall visited with the Williams and LeComtes. The Cameron family were at their camp on Back Street. Paul and Jennifer Casey visited the winter Lake House and planted a vegetable garden. Richard and Jerry Gay ducked out early because the weather was so bad.

Marie Aron and her daughters, Michelle and Lisa, attended a Field Day at the Crescent Park School. It was a fine event for the children and teachers. The first half of the day was spent doing community service. The remaining half of the day the children participated in games, relay races and a water balloon fight. Everyone had a great time and came home happy.

While standing on the bridge over the Dead Cambridge River, many different bird songs and calls can be heard in the thickets. The lady hummingbirds have been scarce. I believe they are nesting. The feisty little males have taken over the feeders with a vengeance. Joy Yarnell, after much watching, spotted the elusive female indigo bunting. They go unnoticed while their male counterparts dazzle you with their color, just as Mother Nature intended. Mother and Father Goose have remained frequent visitors, looking for a handout. Their six goslings are already half grown and gangly. We have a mother mallard with 15 ducklings. She is an excellent provider and brings her babies to all the feeders in the vicinity. I guess feeding 15 kids is an all-day job. Connie Gagnon is on the injured list this week. After incurring a lower-leg laceration, she received six stitches at the Colebrook hospital. Al, her husband, is looking for someone to help him shear his sheep. The person who formerly did the job is ill. Call 207-535-2535 if there is anyone who would like to help a very busy man.

Evelyn and Jim Kenney attended a Golden Wedding Anniversary for Glenna and Fred Allen. Glenna is the Andover lady that ties the wonderful fish flies.

I close with this thought, "Think Sunshine."

I tried to spot the Mir Space Station as it passed through the northwestern skies Thursday evening, but failed to see it.

Mrs. Marion Eisner of Hamden, Conn., and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Holmes of Gorham, N.H., were recent visitors of Bob and Mary Eichel.

I spent last weekend with the Bean-Turner family at The Cape in Otisfield. We attended the Oxford Hills Comprehensive High School graduation exercises held outside on the athletic fields complex. David Bean was one of the graduates.

On Sunday afternoon, I attended a bridal shower honoring Sarah. See SONGO POND, page 8.

Bean, hosted by her friend Michelle McInnesse at The Cape. About 40 friends and relatives attended. The bride-to-be opened a large variety of lovely gifts. Besides family several friends and college classmates drove up from New Hampshire and Massachusetts.

Bill Bancroft spent last weekend at his home, returning to the Veteran's Home in South Paris later.

Mrs. Elmira Doyen is at the Ledgeview Nursing home now. She would welcome visitors and mail.

A state highway crew has been working on Route 5 in this area, cleaning up the roadsides and cleaning out ditches.

Jay and Hope Herr returned to their home on Songo Pond from South Carolina.

Their Massachusetts daughter, Julie; her husband, Paul Palmer; grandgirls, Erika and Dale; along with their Alabama daughter, Jill; her husband, Dan Harris; and grandson, R.J., will be visiting during the summer.

What two words have the most letters in them? Post Office.

Enjoy life. This is not a rehearsal.

East Stoneham

by Eleanor Nelson
Hi readers. I have a correction to make this week. I made a boo boo last week and said Sept. 3 was the Church Harvest Supper, but Sept. 3 is the regular and Oct. 1 is the Harvest Supper put on by the church. These are public suppers and the first one is June 18th, Thursday night.

Saturday, the Daughters of Union Veterans of the Civil War, Hannah F. Richardson Tent 19 had a good day with their inside yard sale and bake sale. Also the Stoneham Church Thrift Shop and Bake Sales did very well and will continue to be open every Saturday from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. Hope to see you there. We welcome any monetary, food or household items. It's fun to browse around. If you would like any special thing or food, name it and we will try and get it for you. How's that for cooperation.

I went to Belmont, Mass., Sunday and attended graduation at Belmont High School where Aisha graduated, and Jaffer played the French horn in the Belmont Orchestra there. It was a good weekend and of course I had to stop in at Santora's Sub Villa on the way home.

Albert Nelson, Jr. and Troy went to Nelson's camp at Wilson's Mills Saturday and got water pipes fixed so we can have water at the camp. Thanks, Gene and Troy.

Camp Susan Curtis is getting ready to open for children of Maine to attend.

The 1998 spring and summer tours of the traditional "Little Red Wagon" have started. This is a story theater of puppets and song and involves the children in songs, etc. It's a real nice little program and is free and open to any children and adults to attend. It is sponsored by Camp Susan Curtis and the Oxford County United Parish. I believe the date for this is Aug. 5 at 10 a.m. at Camp Susan Curtis.

Phyllis Adams and myself were again ballot clerks at the voting booth on Tuesday, June 9. It was a good day, but the number of voters was small as was expected.

Hopefully more voters will get out in the fall.

Jim Morrison is selling raffle tickets for 25 pounds of lobster to benefit the Hiawasse K of P 18 with drawing to be held Aug. 20. You can buy a ticket from Jim and you might be the lucky winner. It's for a good cause, anyway. The K of P Hall here in East Stoneham is one of the oldest buildings around and has had many, many activities held there for the community.

I forgot to say that Ralph and Harriet Brown brought us ballot clerks a nice hot pizza for lunch on Tuesday and we shared it with them. Thanks, Ralph and Harriet. It was good, and good of you.

Just a reminder that the Senior Appreciation Day for senior citizens 50 and over is to be held at Fryeburg Fairgrounds from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. There will be a picnic lunch, crime prevention programs, musical entertainment and door prizes. This is free and put on by the Oxford County Sheriff's Department TRIAD program on June 19.

North Newry

by Gil Seeley
About 50 or more friends and relatives gathered together at their son's residence to celebrate Kathy and Rodney Hanscom's 50th wedding anniversary on Sunday, June 7. I went with Sylvia and Bill Wight. Sue and Owen Wight were there, also Susan Bowie, the Munros and friend, and a lot more people I didn't know. Maybe if you read Ruth Cummings' column you will get more on this get-together. We all wish them many more happy days.

The Newry Mothers' Club had their yearly banquet at the Town and Country Inn Monday evening, June 8, with 11 members and friends, Karlene Bachelder and her mother Julia Goodwin, Polly Mahoney, Sis Post, Peggy Wight, Nancy Wight, Rita Wilson, Eleanor Davis, club president Patti Lowell, secretary/treasurer Laura Lowell and yours truly. It was a delightful feast and a lot of conversation and fun. See you next year.

Terri Littlehale had a graduation party for her daughter, Dani, at noon on Sunday, June 7. At 6 p.m., June 7, she had a double birthday party for her brother, Mike Wight, and daughter Staci. Terri and Nancy Wight made the birthday cakes.

Dani Littlehale and Amber Brooke graduated from Telstar on June 5. Rebecca Fraser graduated from Gould Academy.

Sunday River Valley

by Rockie Graham

What a week, rain, rain and more rain fell. As I write (Monday), the rain has stopped, for awhile. More is expected this evening. The news implies that the worst flooding may be over for us. The Andy Crested last evening (Sunday). The Sunday River was roaring last night, raging its way to the no longer placid Andy. Perhaps that flurry of cars, this morning, was kayakers hurrying to take advantage of the March high waters. At the Covered Bridge, the water raged and foamed through, oblivious to the fact that a few short weeks before it flowed through slowly, well below the usual June level. All that has changed, for now.

Last night (at 5 p.m.) heading to town for the Bethel Outing Club meeting, I passed the Parsons' campground and all the campers, RVs in gear, were hurrying to evacuate in front of the incoming river. By 8 p.m., only the tops of the picnic tables were out of the water, the kayaks and canoes were threatening to take off down river. People were pacing about to move lumber not tied or nailed down. By morning, only small puddles and pond wannabes remained of all that water. I didn't venture too far up river, here, but if the river was at the bridge, I'm sure it was high upriver. Once again, we were lucky not to lose power; others were not so lucky, due to downed power lines.

The Outing Club did meet, though some members were busy with high-water problems. It was decided that there would be a hike on July 26. There would be a rapid training hike and a slower hike for those of us not as able bodied, but just as interested in hiking. It was also decided that the August meeting would entail election of officers and planning for the October ski sale. Kirk Siegel or Ann Speth can be contacted for more information.

I had to see the doc this morning to get my knees and hips working again. If you haven't seen me walking this week, that's why. Don't know why, but I can't seem to keep them where they're supposed to be. I hope it's not a sign of aging, because that would mean it won't get better, something I refuse to believe. I can hear all you naysayers saying I should just face it, I'm getting older, but I don't believe that for a minute. That is, I know that I'm getting older, I just refuse to admit it is going to slow me down.

After being roundly criticized for mentioning Jim in my column, I promise not to mention him again.

He is not a dump picker and whatever else I am supposed to have said about him. You will not hear his name mentioned again in this column. From now on, he shall be nameless.

Hopefully, tonight's rain won't cause too much damage and the river won't rise too high. It seems hard to be thinking that such a could be canceled because of weather in June, but it could. Actually, I'm rooting for it not to happen because that would create havoc in our overly scheduled summer syllabus. That's all for now, hope you all have a great week.

Mason Township

by Richard Grover
Another beautiful week in "God's Country" until the monsoon season. The past two weeks we have watched the Glover house at "The Farm" rapidly take shape. They now have the entire shell up and have installed fascia boards and drip edge around the roof. Boy, it sure is a big one, with lots of room for company. Get your room reservations in early.

On Sunday, June 7, David Hanscom hosted a 50th anniversary party at his Mason home for his parents, Rodney and Kathy Hanscom. Folks from as far away as Bailey Island and Ellsworth came and congregated inside and outside (until it started raining) the house. All afternoon, guests enjoyed refreshments and catching up on stories both old and new. Many commented on the beautiful area here. When the final tally came in, it seems about 130 people paid their respects and

RICHARDSON GRADUATES

On May 9th, Suzann Richardson of Andover graduated from the University of Maine in Orono, receiving a bachelor of arts degree in communication and disorders.

While attending the University of Maine she was active in a variety of student activities. She was a member of the National Student Speech Language and Hearing Association, served on the University Enrollment Advisory Board, and was an active member of Delta Zeta International Sorority where she held the positions of master of ritual, new member educator, vice president and then served as president. Suzann also participated in a variety of volunteer opportunities such as volunteering at the Bangor Humane Society, the Bangor Homeless Shelter, community nursing homes, Eastern Maine Medical Center, YMCA and a variety of community activities for area children to name a few.

She will be moving to West Lafayette, Ind., to work for one year and will be attending Purdue University Graduate School in the fall of 1999 to obtain her master's in speech language pathology.

Suzann is the daughter of Joe and Peggy Madigan of Andover.

ENDINGS AND BEGINNINGS—The conclusion of the school year in SAD44 brought retirement for Woodstock Elementary School principal Bruce Bell (left). He directed last week's Step-Up Day from the comfort of a chair the school's staff set up for him in the playground sandbox. A Hawaiian shirt, tropical drink, beach ball, and umbrella added to the beach-like atmosphere. For children in the Kids' Connection and Bethel daycares, Step-Up Day was a beginning (top). They visited with the transportation department's Burnie Rice at the SAD44 bus garage, and learned about school buses and bus safety.

"A Fish Story"

by Jonathan Sabins, C.P.S.

I went fishing in my Grampa's brook. I caught a fish. I used a lure. It was a small minnow. I jiggled it. The fish grabbed it. I lifted the pole. The hook caught on the fish's mouth. The fish tried to swim away. I lifted the pole. The fish jumped out of the water. I pulled and the fish went over my head and landed in my cousin's lap.

My cousin used the pliers and took the hook out of the mouth. We took it home and put it in a tank.

Cindy Brown visited CPS kindergartners and gave an excellent presentation on lobsters. Her son, Devon, helped demonstrate how lobsters are banded. Here, Trevor Kendall and Tommy Conroy hold porcupine fish.

RECYCLING BY THE TON—Marcie Tupper's fifth-grade class at Crescent Park Elementary School organized the school's paper recycling efforts during the past school year. They collected a total of 6,952 pounds of paper. Categories included cardboard, newspaper, office, mixed and magazine. The students also worked some mathematics into the project, making both bar and pie graphs to represent the distribution of types of paper. Class members pictured above with their graphs are, front (from left): Andy Aloisio, Ephraim Baker, Becky Slattery, Ryan Trefethen, Andrew Raymond, Karl Olson. Back: Michelle Henley, Glen Carver, Doug Swan, Lorenzo Baker, Annika Pierce, BethAnne Haines, Cassie Burgess, Kevin Johnston, Tupper.

Jim Chandler of the Oxford County Soil and Water Conservation District teaches CPS second-graders about soil.

Environment Day at CPS

Monday, May 18, was the second-grade Environmental Day at Ms. Coolidge's home.

This was the tenth year that Ms. Coolidge has been organizing this day for the second graders at C.P.S. Andover second-graders also joined them this year.

Over the years, the day has grown from four stations to nine. It has been a fun day each year due to all of the volunteers who present and go as helpers.

Topics covered included plants, flowers, wildlife, hiking, recycling, soil, tree farming, trapping, animal signs, tree identification, tree growth and animal tracks.

This year's presenters were Mrs. Alberta Angevine, Mr. Richard Angevine, Mr. Ernest Angevine, Ms. Pat Nasta, Mr. Walter Hatch, Mr. Don Feeney, Mr. Jim Chandler, Mr. Jeff Williams, Mr. Richard Duplessis and Mr. Levi Brown.

Ms. Nasta and Melissa teach the children about taking out anything they pack in on a hike. Take care of the wilderness.

Jeff Williams, a forester from Mead, came and showed the children several different tools he uses in the woods. The children learned many ways to measure trees.

From the

Bethel Library

Once again it's getting close to summer and that means the Bethel Library Summer reading program will soon begin.

This will be our 10th year doing this program for the community. We encourage all elementary and pre-school children to participate.

The children have the option of reading 20 books or reading a minimum of 15 hours. The children and their parents may decide which plan is the best for them. The intent of the program is to read for enjoyment.

To encourage children to visit the Bethel Library, we request that the books selected be from the library.

At the end of the summer all children who have completed their goals will have the opportunity to go on our annual field trip.

Children may pick up participation forms at the Bethel Library anytime after June 22.

well wishes for the guests of honor.

I also have a great columnist with a submission for this week. Camilla Everett and husband, Bob, live just on the Bethel side of the Mason town line, but her "duck pond" extends across the line into Mason. Camilla provided the following:

"Dear folks,

"This week we have had a little extra added to our lives out our way. Since moving from Virginia Beach, Va., we often find this to be true as far as the wildlife goes.

"The female hooded merganser duck we watch out back in our pond blessed us with eight little ones again this year. We have spied and watched and are sure now that she nests in the duck box in the old maple tree right beside the waters of the pond. That old tree is so scraggly that every year we think it will surely be its last, but the old tree lives on and the duck box and the bird house on the other side are always occupied. We are amazed at how those teeny ducks drop out of that box on the tree trunk to the ground and water without casualties.

"When we saw, with glee, that the new little ones had arrived, Bob decided to check the nest to see if it was indeed empty. He takes a ladder down and climbs up, peeks in, and sure enough finds one lone egg. It was a white one about the size of a chicken egg. A little foot had broken out but Bob thought it surely was dead. I'm not sure of the details but Bob noticed some movement. The egg was cracked open and there it was, wiggly, wet and a definite teeny duck. His feet were the largest part of him, I thought. He couldn't seem to get straightened out from being tucked into that egg. We thought maybe his neck was broken when the egg was cracked open.

"We took him to the house to dry and warm him. We say him but it could just as well be a her. He seemed to do well in warm hands that cuddled him. What do you feed a two inch long duck? Nothing we tried worked, so we comforted him the best we could and hoped he would gain strength. We were totally unsure of how to deal with him but Bob felt a little responsible for him since he was the one that brought him into this old world.

"We tried him in water ... nope, not ready. We finally slept with him near us in a box so our two inquisitive cats would not use him as an overnight snack.

"The next morning he was still alive, much to our surprise. He still refused our idea of nutrition and was getting really restless. I put him in the kitchen sink in about two inches of water to see if he would handle it better than the night before and he did well. I then filled the sink more so he would have to swim and swim he did. He bathed and had a good time. Then it was back to the box for a nap. We went from sink to box and back again, but each time he seemed to have a new yearning to get out of them both and to be free. I feared he would hurt himself.

"I gathered him into my hands to soothe him and we walked to the pond. When I knelt down to let him out I thought he may be afraid again, but not so. He happily hopped into the water and speedily swam away from me saying, 'peep peep' all the way down to the other end of the pond.

"Mother duck and the eight ducklings have left Peep Peep behind, but he has survived his first day in a pond in Bethel and perhaps ducks have a guardian angel the same as you and I. Perhaps some other duck will fly in and accept him with their new ducklings. We'll watch and try to see, but watching a two-inch duck in a rather large pond really takes some doing. I think the angels can do it better."

There is a P.S. to Camilla's article of May 28. Little Peep Peep was still alive and swimming alone as late as June 12, so his chances of long-term survival are much improved.

One more thing -- Helen Saunders still has dishes at her home that belong to people who furnished food for Cindy Mills' Benefit Supper. She would appreciate having them picked up.

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT DISTRICT OF MAINE
Portland Natural Gas Transmission System v. Plaintiff
18 acres of land, more or less, in the town of Bethel, County of Oxford, State of Maine, and Robert T. Hayden, Jr.
Defendants
NOTICE
To: Robert T. Hayden, Jr.
You are hereby notified that a Complaint in condemnation has been filed in the Office of the Clerk of the United States District Court for the District of Maine, in the United States Court-house in Portland, Maine, for the taking of a temporary easement for use in constructing an interstate natural gas transmission pipeline and related facilities on the following described property in which you may have or claim an interest:

PROPERTY
Part of a certain plot, piece or parcel of land situated in the town of Bethel, County of Oxford, State of Maine, described by Deed dated August 24, 1990, recorded August 28, 1990 in the Oxford County Registry of Deeds in Book 1753, Page 55, as further described in Exhibit A to Plaintiff's Complaint. (See FDNGTS Line List No. 90.00)

INTEREST HOLDER(S)
Robert T. Hayden, Jr. (see owner)

The Federal Energy Regulatory Commission has issued Certificate of Public Convenience and Necessity to Portland Natural Gas Transmission System, authorizing the construction, operation and maintenance of an interstate natural gas transmission pipeline and related facilities.

The authority for the taking is the Natural Gas Act, 15 U.S.C. § 717(f)(1).

You may view a copy of the Complaint at the Office of the Clerk in the United States Court-house, 156 Federal Street, Portland, Maine, 04101.

You are further notified that if you desire to present any objection or defense to the taking of the easement interests in your property you are required to serve your answer on the Plaintiff's attorney, within twenty days after the last day of publication of this notice, which should appear July 2, 1998, at the following address:
John A. Ciraldi, Esq.
Perkins, Thompson, Hinckley & Keddy, P.A.
One Canal Plaza, P.O. Box 426
Portland, ME 04112-0426

Pursuant to Fed. R. Civ. P. (5)d, you must also file your answer, together with a certificate of service, with the Court at the address given above for the Office of the Clerk.

Your answer must identify the property in which you claim to have an interest, state the nature and extent of the interest you claim, and state all of your objections and defenses to the taking of your property. All defenses and objections not so presented are waived. And in case of your failure to so answer the Complaint, judgment of condemnation of that part of the above described property in which you have or claim an interest will be rendered. If you fail to answer and provide objections and defenses, however, you may still present evidence as to the amount of compensation to be paid for the property, and you are still entitled to share in that award.

If you fail to answer, you may still serve on Plaintiff's attorney designated above, at the above-indicated address, a notice of appearance designating the property in which you claim to be interested. Such notice of appearance must also be filed with the Court, together with a Certificate of service. Thereafter you will receive notice of all proceedings affecting the property, including notice of proceedings regarding the award of just compensation. At the trial of the issue of just compensation, whether or not you have previously appeared or answered, you may present evidence as to the amount of the compensation to be paid for your property, and you may share in the distribution of the award.

This notice is provided pursuant to Fed. R. Civ. P. 71A.
Dated at Portland, Maine this 16th day of June, 1998.

THEODORE H. HOWE

Theodore (Ted) Hartley Howe, 84, of Waterford, died Monday evening, June 15, 1998, at his home, after a period of failing health.

Born at Waterford on April 5, 1914, the son of Harold and Mildred Heath Howe, he owned and operated a saw mill and lumber business.

Card of Thanks

Special thanks to our friends and relatives for the cards, phone calls etc., in the memory of our brother, John. Mr. & Mrs. Albert Buck & family. Mr. & Mrs. Fred Scribner & family. Wilma Gorman & family.

During World War II, Mr. Howe was a first-class machinist at the Portsmouth Naval Shipyard, building a home and living in the Kittery area.

In 1945 he and his wife moved back to Waterford where they spent the rest of their lives raising two children.

His dedication to life was exemplified by his dedication to his community, acting as chairman of the School Board, selectman at Waterford and especially serving as Chief of Police.

He also served as an Oxford County Deputy Sheriff and as a court officer in Superior Court. After semi-retirement, he worked for Paul Sanborn at Sanborn Machine as a machinist.

Mr. Howe was a past master of Mt. Tiram Lodge 132, AF & AM and was a member of the Order of the Eastern Star.

He enjoyed hunting, brook fishing, caring for his land and eating lobster.

He married the former Alice Brown on May 26, 1934, for over 62 years, and she died Feb. 3, 1996.

Survivors include his mother, who is 101 years old; one son, Robert and his wife June of Spanaway, Wash.; one daughter, Cynthia and her husband Paul Littlefield of Rochester, N.H.; two sisters, June Starbird of Waterford and Jean Grover of East Bethel; one brother, Paul (Bill) of Norway; five grandchildren; nine great-grandchildren; and several nieces and nephews.

In accordance with Mr. Howe's wishes, there will be no funeral - friends and family are invited to gather at his home in Waterford on Friday, June 19, between 1 and 3 p.m. A committal service at the Elm Vale Cemetery in South Waterford will be held at a later date.

IRMA "TOOTIE" HOLT

Irma "Tootie" Holt died early Monday, June 15, 1998, at Stephens Memorial Hospital in Norway.

She was born Irma Vogel in Landshut, Germany, in 1929, where she trained as a legal secretary.

She came to America in 1954 and married Robert Donald "Don" Holt. They settled in East Bethel, where they farmed and raised horses, did logging, and raised their children. Donald died in 1989.

Irma was an independent and self-sufficient woman who raised her children largely on her own while her husband was away in the armed services. She will be greatly missed.

Survivors include her five children, Scott, Juanita, Jerome, Heidi, and Donna; as well as three grandchildren.

Memorial services for her family and friends will be held on Saturday, June 20, at 12 noon at her home on the East Bethel Road. In lieu of flowers or other gifts, memorial donations are welcome.
